THE DORVAL LIBRARY... ARE YOU A FRIEND ?

Did you know that more than 7,000 residents use the Dorval Library each year? Who are they? Pre-schoolers learning to read... students doing their homework... bibliophiles seeking that special book... local entrepreneurs starting businesses... and people of all ages reading for pleasure, to keep abreast of current events and for the joy of life-long learning.

Who are the Friends of the Dorval Library?

In 2003, a group of Dorval Library users decided to get more involved. Their mission is to ensure that their hometown library continues to offer the finest collections and the most up-to-date services and technology possible. The group formed a non-profit organization, the Friends of the Dorval Library, which was awarded its Letters Patent in December 2003.

A local movement with international connections...

The concept of a friends of the library group is not a new one. Friends of the Library is an international movement of independent citizens' groups that support and assist their libraries in achieving their mission and goals. In Canada, there are over 140 groups already in existence.

The Friends of the Dorval Library need you!

Show your support. Join the Friends of the Dorval Library, and help carry on the tradition of grass-roots commitment to local library service.

Besides paying a modest membership fee, Friends can demonstrate their support in a number of ways:

- Participating in promotional events
- Helping with fundraising
- Providing volunteer assistance

Friends may also organize activities of interest for their members, such as newsletters and outings.
